FAIR HOUSING MONTH

"It is the policy of the United States to provide, within Constitutional limitations, for fair housing throughout the United States."
Title VIII, Civil Rights Act of 1968

Eight full years have elapsed since passage of the 1968 Civil Rights Act and as we look about us, we see that the succinct language of its fair housing provision has been too little recognized by many Americans.

Behind the letter of the law there is an underlying spirit which should appeal to the humanity of all of us. Simply stated, all Americans have the right to live where they choose, when they choose, for as long as they can afford to do so, and each of us should promote and safeguard that right for all others. This is not just a simple tenet of democracy, it is a human cannon as well. In the eight years since 1968, we have placed our interests and priorities in many areas. Practices and procedures that once divided the nation into enclaves of bigotry, smugness and frustration have often been quietly put aside on the premise that all Americans can and must live, work and play together.

One expects that a nation and its people would manifest a certain maturity after 200 years. We are seeing part of that maturity. Yet, on the promise of fair housing, which is to say equal access to housing, we have not yet shown the full wisdom and understanding to accompany our years.

Among the many promises we make in this bicentennial year, let us include the following: fair housing is an American idea; let us all work ...as individuals as well as members of the American community... to make fair housing an ideal for all Americans. RIGHT ON!

SEATTLE URBAN LEAGUE TO HOLD "FREEDOM FROM WANT" CONFERENCE

Frances Fox Piven

"Freedom From Want: Towards More Equality" is the theme of a Seattle Urban League conference to be held at Plymouth Congregational Church Friday and Saturday, April 23-24. The two major issues to be examined are Full Employment (providing jobs for all who are able to work) and Income Maintenance (providing adequate incomes for those unable to work.)

Featured speakers from across the country include Frances Fox Piven, who will speak on the current crisis in welfare. Ms. Piven is a Professor of Political Science at City University of New York, and has co-authored a book entitled "Regulating the Poor and the Politics of Turmoil."

Dr. Lisle Carter, Jr., Chancellor of Atlanta University Center, will discuss Income Maintenance and will present the position of the National Urban League.

Sumner Rosen, an Economist from Columbia University and author of "Economic Power Failure" will speak on achieving equality through full employment. Mr. Rosen has also served as a research and education director for the AFL-CIO and has written extensively on economic and labor matters.

Ronald Brown, Director of the Washington Bureau of the National Urban League, will examine political prospects for passage in congress of a full-employment act and other welfare legislation.

Commenting on the presentations and discussing the implications will be several panels of local representatives, including Miner Baker, Vice President and Economist with Seattle First National Bank; Norwood Brooks, Commissioner of the Washington State Department of Employment Security; Robert Burke, Professor of History, University of Washington; and Ann Sandstrom, President of the Seattle League of Women Voters.

Funding for the conference was provided by a grant from the Washington Commission for the Humanities. Co-sponsors include A.D.C. Motivated Mothers, Central Area Civil Rights Committee, Church Council of Greater Seattle, League of Women Voters of Seattle, League of Women Voters of Washington, Seattle-King County New Careers Project, Inc., Tacoma Urban League, University of Washington School of Social Work, and the Washington Association for Social Welfare.

Elizabeth Pierini, Seattle Urban League Board member, is serving as Chair-person for the conference.

For those persons wishing to attend, advance registration is required and cost is $7. If interested, call Kay Thode of the Seattle Urban League at 447-3795.

SEATTLE MAYOR ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNOR

In a recent statement to the press Seattle Mayor Wes Uhlman stated, "I am today announcing my candidacy for governor of the State of Washington.

"I am asking my family and friends to make the sacrifice of a long, hard campaign, because our state faces critical problems which demand tough, practical leadership.

"Our education system all across this state is in a shambles. Our tax structure is hopelessly inadequate. Neighborhood schools from Marysville to Federal Way are closing. Good young teachers are leaving. We must assure that state government fulfills its number one responsibility of a decent basic education for every child.

"Second, our state government is bloated with bureaucrats. It has more than doubled in size in the last ten years. I intend to put a stop to that ballooning bureaucracy. We did it in Seattle, and I believe that we can do it in Olympia.

"Third, we desperately need new jobs in this state -- 136,000 new jobs for our unemployed, and 275,000 additional new jobs by 1985. For example, in 1967 we invested $478,000 to attract tourists and conventions to our state. Today, that budget has been cut to $308,000. I intend to restore economic development as a priority in our state, so that our sons and our daughters can have the jobs they need to be productive, taxpaying citizens.

"Fourth, there are 140,000 elderly people in our state who live on shrinking incomes that place them on the edge of financial disaster. That's a disgrace. It is a worse disgrace that our state provides no leadership to ease their plight. I intend to restore to state government a sense of compassion and understanding for the problems of our older citizens.

"Serving as mayor for the last six years, I've faced tough problems from unemployment to bombings to strikes by public workers. I've had to make some hard decisions. Those decisions have made some enemies. But I've done the job as I saw it had to be done.

"It's time for that same kind of practical, common sense leadership at the state level.

"I ask the citizens of Washington State for more than votes. I ask for help. I ask you to join me in solving the problems which we face together."

As Mayor, Uhlman has implemented an urban conservation philosophy for city government, aimed at encouraging the redevelopment of the city and its resources. Under his leadership, historic Pioneer Square has been restored as a productive and attractive asset to the downtown. The downtown itself is being revived with the help of free public transportation, the Magic Carpet Ride bus zone, which extends into Pioneer Square and the International District. Neighborhoods, too, are being revitalized by a neighborhood housing rehabilitation program, the first of its kind in the country.

Mayor Uhlman has also emphasized the arts and culture in Seattle, making the city a more interesting place to visit and a more humanized place to live. Seattle now boasts one of the finest public arts programs in the nation.

Mayor Uhlman goes over his busy schedule with staff members Ms. Donnetta Alexander and Lou Wanda Fay Smith.

NAACP Launches Membership Drive

The Seattle Branch of the NAACP, on April 24, 1976, will launch its Annual Membership Campaign as its part toward an unprecedented National goal of one million members by the end of the bicentennial year, 1976.

Under the slogan, "Soul of Seventy Six," Seattle members plan to seek memberships throughout their communities from all levels of citizens, with particular emphasis paid to those potential members who have never been asked to join.

This priority campaign calls for Seattle Citizens to meet a quota of 3500 members by May 29, 1976.

Cheryle Woods, Chairperson of the Drive, said, "As NAACP'ers, during the 200th Anniversary of our nation's birth, let us rededicate ourselves to greater strides toward full freedom for Blacks and other minorities."

The NAACP is the nation's oldest interracial civil rights organization. Founded in 1909 by a group of eminent Black and White leaders, the association has been responsible for a long list of landmark legislation and court decisions which have increased democratic benefits for all Americans.

Lacy Steele, President of Seattle Branch NAACP said that in 1975 the Seattle Branch was involved in such issues as:

1. Redlining
2. Kingdome and King County, employment of minorities.
3. Mayor Recall
4. Testified at Block Grant for Inner City interests.
5. Co-sponsored Martin Luther King Oratorical Contest.
6. Demonstrated against (RIF) Reduction In Force of Inner City Schools.
7. Sponsored Post Office test preparation.
8. Processed complaints of discrimination in employment.

Words Of Life:

Bible Inspiration for the Week

"O Lord, how manifold are Thy works! In wisdom hast Thou made them all; the earth is full of Thy riches."
--Psalm 104:24

Our young people especially with their eager spirit, may find much meaning in these words, as may we all. We may apply their thoughts to our daily life. We may also wish to ask our minister to shed further light upon their meaning in a sermon.

I--The words speak of wonder at the multitude, the seemingly endless variety, of things which God has made. In an age of travel and of wide visual experience via the television screen, we may all marvel at the infinite possibilities with which God has endowed our world and universe.

II--A wise God "has made them all." God's wisdom has provided us with all the possibilities which surround us. It follows that only by "God's mind in us" that we may have ourselves the wisdom to use God's good things aright.

III--Opportunities surround us at every hand. We must be ever alert to them, knowing that "the earth is full of God's riches." For blacks denied opportunity, there must be the recognition voiced by Frederick Douglass that although our freedom is at hand, it is only we ourselves who can appropriate it so as to have it in hand. God gives infinitely. But we must receive.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY (Crusade)

FILLERS
Galley "B"
7256.02 1976

Three Gifts at Once
Your one check to the American Cancer Society becomes three separate gifts, supporting ACS efforts in research, education and service toward the control of cancer.

Keep the Ball Rolling
Research to save more lives from cancer--which claims over 365,000 lives a year--mustn't be allowed to stop in midstream. Funds are urgently needed to keep hundreds of research projects going. Your contribution to the American Cancer Society Crusade can help this vital work.

Big Helping Hand
Want your contributions to help people now? Donations to the American Cancer Society do. Among those assisted are women recovering from breast surgery and men and women who lost their voices to cancer. ACS units also loan sickroom equipment and provide transportation services.

Dollars That Stretch
Looking for a way to stretch your contribution dollars? A gift to the American Cancer Society is a good way to make your money do the most toward a big job: conquering cancer.

But Once a Year
The American Cancer Society's educational and fundraising Crusade comes only once a year, but the fight to control cancer never stops. Give generously this April so ACS life-saving programs can continue uninterrupted.

Answer That Ring
American Cancer Society volunteers will be ringing some 40 million doorbells this month, and one of them is likely to be yours. Be ready for them with a generous contribution so that vital ACS programs of research, education and service can continue.

Will You Be Next?
There are about 53 million Americans living right now who are expected to develop cancer during their lifetimes. Your contribution to the American Cancer Society during this year's Crusade will help researchers find cancer cures and help support educational programs that teach ways to spot cancer in its early, treatable stages.

Never Truer
The American Cancer Society still stands behind its slogan, "We Want to Wipe Out Cancer in Your Lifetime." Your contribution can help make it come true.

Cure More
To help cure more, give more to the American Cancer Society for its programs of education, research and service.

Progress Against Leukemia
More and more normal living is being won for leukemia patients by better drugs and improved methods of treatment. Help conquer leukemia by giving to the American Cancer Society.

People Can Own Home, Still Get Supplemental Security Income

People can own a home and still be eligible for Federal supplemental security income payments, according to social security officials here.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled.

"Limited resources means possessions worth up to $1,500 for one person living alone and $2,250 for a couple," a spokesman said. "But a home with a market value of $25,000 or less doesn't count as a resource."

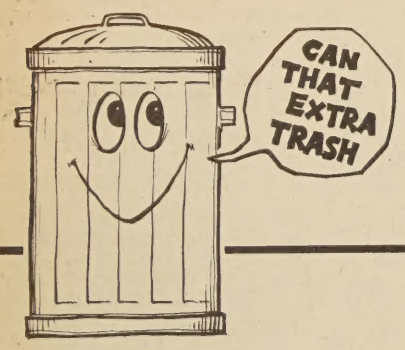
In Alaska and Hawaii the home market value amount is $35,000 or less.

"The Federal Government doesn't put liens on the homes of people because they get supplemental security income payments," the spokesman said.

Other possessions that aren't counted as resources, depending on their value, may include a car, personal effects, household goods, and life insurance policies, he said.

People can get information about applying for supplemental security income payments by calling or writing any social security office.

The supplemental security income program is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.



ANNOUNCING

A New Convenience For You from your Tacoma Public Works Refuse Utility

OCCASIONAL HOUSEHOLD REFUSE PICKUP SERVICE

STARTING MAY 1st

We are pleased to offer this new service to our customers who occasionally have extra household refuse to be disposed of in addition to their regular garbage collection.

Here's how it works: Place your extra household refuse in a garbage can or other waterproof container of up to 32 gallons in size. Place the extra container of refuse next to your garbage can and it will be picked up on your regular collection day.

The charge for this new pickup service is 75c per extra container of refuse. PLEASE—DO NOT LEAVE CASH. This charge will be recorded by the Collection Crew and will appear on your next utility bill.

NOTE: If you normally have extra refuse, the cost of one additional can on a regular basis is $1.15 per month or less than 30c per week.

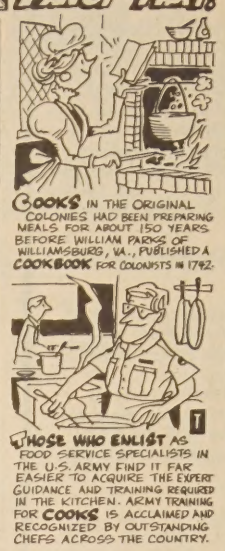
FANCY THAT!



COOKS IN THE ORIGINAL COLONIES HAD BEEN PREPARING MEALS FOR ABOUT 150 YEARS BEFORE WILLIAM PARKS OF WILLIAMSBURG, VA., PUBLISHED A COOKBOOK FOR COLONISTS IN 1742.
THOSE WHO ENLIST AS FOOD SERVICE SPECIALISTS IN THE U.S. ARMY FIND IT FAR EASIER TO ACQUIRE THE EXPERT GUIDANCE AND TRAINING REQUIRED IN THE KITCHEN. ARMY TRAINING FOR COOKS IS ACCLAIMED AND RECOGNIZED BY OUTSTANDING CHEFS ACROSS THE COUNTRY.
